Silver certificates were slightly lower on realizing orders, which carried the price down to 69c for $113,000. The New York stock market Saturday was fairly active for a half holiday, considering the recent average records of business and a strong tone prevailed. The local dealers toook their cue from higher London prices and worked for a higher range and with considerable covering demand decided improvements occurred.

The grangers were helped by the favorable character of the monthly government crop report and the market generally re-flected relief over the failure of the rumors of prospective large gold exports to materialize thus far. The opening was strong and higher with fractional improvements generally and a degree of buoyancy soon became apparent, particularly in the specialties. Large blocks of stocks changed hands and advances were recorded, extending in Chicago gas to 2 per cent. The animation soon moderated and the market became dull, though still retaining and in some cases improving early gains. Tennessee Coal was a notable exception and sold off 11/4 per cent. on realizing, following a rise of a point, commission house purchases of various stocks were noted. Renewed activity and increased strength characterized the final hour. Manhattan rose to 99, a net gain of 2% per cent., and Burlington and Rock Island scoted material gains, the last mentioned advancing 1½ per cent. to 64. The more noteworthy extreme advances were in Chicago Gas and Manhattan, 2%; Bay State Gas, 2; Cotton Oil preferred, 17s: Burlington, Metropolitan Traction and Northwest, 13. The other gains at the top ranged from 14@114 per cent. The market closed strong at not far from the best fig-

The stock values during the week moved irregularly and a considerable restriction of business occurred through the intense interest manifested over the Chicago convention. The local dealings were shaped largely by the attitude of the London operators in American securities, and the steadiness with which the political news was received at that center had a sustaining influence. The home market, however, was almost entirely in the hands of the pro-fessional traders and displayed nervousness, responding quickly to favorable or discouraging news. London's purchases in Movements of decided interest occurred in appeared to receive inside support at the low level. A sagging tendency became apparent in the exchange market during the first half of the week which had a steadying influence on the stock prices, encourag-ing the belief that gold shipments for the season had run their course. Exchange subsequently stiffened, however, under decreased offerings of security bills and a falling off in the supply of commercial ex-change. An engagement of $500,000 in gold for shipment to Germany, part for Saturfor shipment to Germany, part for Saturday and part on Tuesday, came as a decided surprise to the street and induced some selling on the theory that the enders, together with a reassured sentiment regarding the political outlook caused an active and strong market towards the close. The final prices are materially above the early low figures and record reactional net gains as a rule. Some of the gains were substantial. The aggregate sales were 748,-

Railway bonds were dull Saturday and lacked feature aside from a generally firm ne. The market during the week exhibited a sagging tendency sympathizing with the movement in stocks. The concessions in the prominent speculative issues were unimportant as a rule, but some material declines occured in the usually neglected mortgages. Flint & Perc Marquette consuls fives dropped 11 per cent., and Baltimore Belt firsts guaranteed, 9 per cent. The sales Government bonds were moderately active and were under continuous pressure throughout, with the new fours reacting to 116. The sales were $390,000. The New York Financier says this week: "The statement of the clearing-house banks for the week ending July 11 shows a gain of $1,909,000 in the reserve. Since the interior movement for the week was lighter than usual, the balance after deducting outward shipments having been not over $1,000,000, it is plain that the gain came from subtreasury movements and the shifting incident to the July divident period. In no other way can the heavy increase in eash and deposits be accounted for. The period of heavy interior shipments is about over and it will be only a short time now until the demand from Western banks will be a factor in equalizing the situation. Up to the present time, however, this demand has been light and the business done has been much less than expected. As exports are not heavy and as there is a great falling off in interior funds, the outlook appears to be in favor of a rather quiet market, governed by local demand, the loss due to the operations of interior banks. It is yet too early to note the effect if any of LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Trade of the Week Rather Disappointing in Most Lines. most lines the trade of the first week of July was disappointing. The grocers, druggists and hardware men only speak of their business as better than in the preceding week. On Commission row it was fairly busy, but not so much fruits and vegetables were sold as in the week preceding. Some kinds of fruits brought a little better prices. Vegetables, however, sold very ow the entire week. The poultry and egg mar-Eastern demand, but the slight advance in price of Friday was lost on Saturday, so much did receipts increase. The flour, hay and seed markets are all dull and prices weak. Provisions are selling well, but at the lowest prices in some years in July. Receipts of hogs are unusually large for a summer month. local grain market the past week, but through the entire week the tendency was to reduce prices and the week closed with track bids rul-Wheat-No. 2 red, 53%c; No. 3 red, 50%@51%c;

A SQUARE MEAL. He Was from Montana and Wanted

Chicago Post. "'How's this 'ere eat'n place?" inquired a delegate from Montana, whose almost colossal figure was clothed in a neat linen suit fresh from the store. His question was addressed to the patrolman who stands on the corner of Michigan avenue and Congress street. The stranger indicated the location of the "eat'n place" in question by a jab of his thumb in the direction of the Auditoribetween a pair of loosely drawn sash cur-"I don't reckon you'll find any better in the whole city," replied the officer. "You have to pay well for what you get, though. Taint no cheap joint, Only people with the The tall man chuckled and stroked his "Putty scrumtious, is it? Waal, that jest hits me to a T. I hain't been in the sheep business on one of the best runs in Mon-

tany fer fifteen years, free wool or no free

"Well, you can get it right there, all you want of it," responded the officer. "It's my game, then," continued the Montanian. "Two year ago Bill Hunter, who owns the next ranch to me, come down to Chicago, and ever since he got back he's been blowin' about how he eat a meal that cost him $20. If he'd a cleaned out every dive in Butte City he wouldn't a ben a bigger man than that meal made him, an' it give him a dead cinch on the office of sheriff in our county, just as easy as throwin' a rope. Now I cal'late t' be the next sheriff out thar ef I have t' raise him ten an' I'm goin' in this place ter or-

He was as good as his word. Hesitation was evidently no part of his makeup. Entering the grillroom and handing his line en hat to the waiter he grasped a menu card and began to scan it from top to botcatering to the gastronomic pleasures of the wealthy Sam Coleman has witnessed many surprising and extravagant table orered from the shock, motioned the waiter to the desk, where he was instructed to have the ham and eggs accompanied by side dishes and liquids enough to have set a modest banquet table. There was a gleam of triumph in the old man's eye as he paid his bill in hard gold out of a well-filled buckskin purse. To-day he was overheard telling the rest of the delegates how he made the money jingle when "doin' the town," and the sheriff who ate a $20 dollar meal will have to watch his political fences closely this fall, for he is up against a competitor who corralled $25 worth of ham and eggs.

Wanted: Less Noise.

New York Ledger. And now Boston has taken up the cudgel, and is waging war against too much noise. From the church bell that wakens persons when they want to sleep of a morning, to the tin horn of the fishmonger who drags his unsavory-smelling wares through the streets, the whole line and gamut of noises are arraigned and made to give an account of themselves and show a reason for their

How many lives are shortened, how many tempers soured and how many nerves are kept at a perpetual overstrain by unnecessary racket, only the books of the recording angel will ever be able to tell. It is unquestionably a fact that the health of city dwellers suffers seriously on account of noise. It is all very well to say that we can get accustomed to din of various sorts. So we can to an extent, but the effort to become accustomed is just so much needless tax on the vitality. How much better it would be to abolish some of the nuisances and enjoy the quiet and repose that their absence would assure us, rather than wear out our nerves and tempers in the effort to tolerate annoyances nia B, $4.23; 10 Yellow C-Franklin Ex. > consideration. Using the Phonograph.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph. The phonograph has invaded the Pittsburg railroad office. It has been in use in several business offices in Pittsburg as an adjunct for some time, but the first railway local officer to adopt its use is General Manager L. F. Loree, of the Pennsylvania Company. Mr. Loree has just installed one of the talking machines in his office in the Pensylvania Company building on Penn avenue, and is much pleased with its working. Instead of dictating his letters to the stenographers he pours the episties into the machine and the stenographer makes the typewritten copies from the machine's dictation. Much time is gained thereby, and when the stenographer is engaged out of the office the phonograph can always be found ready to politely listen to whatever is addressed to it. It is very likely that the machine will soon find its way into other local railway and business offices.

COURAGEMENT TO THE BULLS.

Corn and Onts Rose in Sympathy and Provisions Gained 12 1-2e in All Descriptions.

CHICAGO, July 11 .- Wheat was helped to-day by the improved export demand. Better prices prevailed throughout, September closing with an advance of 1/4c. Corn and oats showed decided improvement, and closed about 1/2c higher each, Provisions advanced 121/2c.

Wheat showed a little more life, the convention news being less of a disturbing element. The opening was steady. The government crop report showed a condition of 75.6 for winter wheat and 93.3 for spring wheat, which reduced the percentage as reported in June 2.3 for winter and 6.6 for spring, and indicated a total crop of under 445,000,000 bushels. This, if anything, was encouraging to the bulls, and some advance followed. Northwest receipts were again free, as were local receipts of new wheat, and some reaction followed. Near the close, the reported engagement of thirty boatloads of spring wheat for export gave the market an upward tone and the firmness was maintained to the close. September opened unchanged at 55%@55%c, advanced to 56%c, declined to 55%c, and rallied again to 56c, where it closed. Corn was helped throughout by the bety ter feeling in wheat and the expectation that lake rates would be reduced, following the example of Eastern rail routes. There was good buying for both country and local account. September opened unchanged at 26%c, advanced steadily and closed at 271/4c.

Oats were active. Crop reports from all sections were unfavorable, and the country bought heavily on that account. Shorts also bought freely and prices ruled higher from the start. September opened unchanged at 15%c and advanced to 15%c, where it closed. Provisions were in better demand. Better prices at the yards exercised a favorable influence and, with moderate buying by shorts, prices advanced from the opening. September pork closed 12½c higher at $6.72½; September lard, .12½c higher at 3.77½@3.80c; September ribs, .12½c higher at your-wheat circulars. The authors of these circulars set forth how dollar wheat might be obtained by the farmer merely holding his product off the market until such time as the necessities of foreign consumers compelled them to buy wheat at the farmers' price. That the advice was pretty generally followed was evidenced by the meager deliveries at primary points during the late winter. But instead of paying the American farmer a dollar for his wheat, the foreign consumers sought other

ing forward, the farmer is forced to ship

his old wheat to make room for the new. These shipments have been enormous. The deliveries for June are estimated to have been the largest on record. Last week the receipts at primary points in the Northwest were a billion bushels larger than for the corresponding week last year, and so far this week they are larger than last week. The farmer is likely to have a similar experience with his advocacy of the silver standard. He will find that legal enactments, like arbitrary manipulation of supply, cannot permanently affect intrinsic values. PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Butter steady; fancy Western creamery, 15%c.
